NO FORMAL EXERCISES MR. KOINER RETURNS HOME

Believed Cars Will Be Running to Ashland Within Two Weeks. Held Important Conference With Traffic Managers of Railroads.

Beginning at noon to-day the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railway will be a moving and a veritable fact in the hour situation of Virginia. At that hour a car service on the line will be inaugurated between the station at Lakeside and Broad Streets and that at Lakeside. Promptly at 12 o'clock the first regular car will pull out and from that time on cars will be run every hour.

There will be no sort of formality in connection with the inauguration of the service. The cars will simply commence business, and keep it up.

The management of the road was not willing last night to set a date when the cars will be running to Ashland, but it is almost certain that within two weeks the service will be extended to the college town. It is the purpose of the company to run cars to Ashland every hour.

The Stations. Following are the stations that have been arranged for and the distances between them:

	Distance to Richmond	Distance to Ashland

soon as the line is completed to Ashland work will be commenced on the Tappahannock division, and it may be that within a year the cars will be running to the Tappahannock River.

Randolph confessed his guilt, and stated that he would show himself on the mercy of the court.

MEAT OR CEREALS.

A Question of Interest to All Careful Persons. Arguments on food are interesting. Many persons adopt a vegetarian diet on the ground that they do not like to feel that life has been taken to feed them, nor do they fancy the thought of eating dead meat.

On the other hand, too great consumption of partly cooked, starchy oats and wheat or white bread, pastry, etc., produces serious bowel troubles, because the bowel digestive organs (where starch is digested), are overtaxed and the food ferments, producing gas, and microbes generate in the decayed food, frequently bringing on peritonitis and appendicitis.

Starchy food is absolutely essential to the human body. Its best form is shown in the food "Grape-Nuts," where the starch is changed into a form of sugar during the process of its manufacture. In this way, the required food is presented to the system in a predigested form and is immediately made into blood and tissue, without taxing the digestive organs.

A remarkable result in nourishment is obtained; the person using Grape-Nuts from the grains, and thus unites with mental strength. Why? In mental strength, because the food contains delicate particles of Phosphate of Potash obtained from the grains, and this unites with the albumen of all food and the combination is what nature uses to rebuild worn out cells in the brain. This is a scientific fact that can be easily proven by ten days' use of Grape-Nuts. "There's a Reason," read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

William Thornton Suffers Peculiar Accident. William Thornton (colored), an employee of the Treadwell Iron Works, was struck yesterday by an oil can thrown from the top of a nearby car. The can struck him on the left eye, and it is probable that his skull is fractured. He was treated by Dr. Strole, of the city ambulance corps, and taken home. He was afterwards put in the charge of Dr. Hobson.

Robert Isaacs Receives Serious Injury, But Will Recover. With an electric current of 2,300 volts, a lineman through his body, Robert Isaacs, a lineman of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, fell from a pole at Shafer Street and Park Avenue at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and was very seriously injured. The catching of his belt on the pole probably saved his life. The accident occurred in the rear of the residence of Colonel Joseph E. Strole, who was completing his work at the top of the pole, and was preparing to descend. On his way down he came in contact with the charged wire and fell to the ground. He was unconscious for half an hour, and when he regained consciousness, he could speak only if he were dead, or if he would be able to work again. Then he relapsed into unconsciousness again. The ambulance was called, and Dr. Strole responded. The physician treated

TWO ENDANGERED IN MAD RUNAWAY

MISS JULIA E. OMOHUNDRO.

Mr. M. H. Omohundro Dragged a Long Distance Beneath a Buggy.

DAUGHTER LEAPS TO SAFETY

Young Lady Retains Presence of Mind, and Jumps at Opportune Moment.

Thrown from the buggy in which he was driving with his young daughter and dragged beneath its body from Laurel Street nearly to the Chesters and Flats, Mr. M. H. Omohundro, of 3063 Floyd Avenue, was so seriously cut and bruised that he required the immediate attention of a physician and had to be taken home by a cab, while his daughter, Miss Julia E. Omohundro, was saved from what would, perhaps, have been sudden death through her sheer nerve and pluck in retaining her seat and jumping from the vehicle when the first opportunity came for her to land in safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Omohundro were driving on Franklin Street, when the horse, touched by the whip to increase his speed, bounded forward, striking the buggy against a tree, smashing the right hind wheel and hurling Mr. Omohundro to the ground. The horse then took to the pavement, on which he ran for about fifty yards, on which he ran for about fifty yards, in a vain attempt to stop the horse, lying beneath the vehicle face downward.

Still swinging to the reins, Mr. Omohundro was dragged nearly to the home of Mr. O. H. Berry, 815 West Franklin Street, where, encountering a large stone step, striking which would have meant certain death to him, he let go just as the horse turned again into the middle of the street. The tremendous stone, weighing about 500 pounds, was dragged six or eight feet into the street.

Spectacular Leap.

"Though much frightened and in an agony of terror for her father's safety, Miss Omohundro retained her presence of mind, screaming at the top of her voice to be saved. Terrified further by the young lady's cries, the horse continued to pursue his mad career until near the grounds of Richmond College, where two men, running out into the street, checked its flight. It was the one opportune moment for a safe jump, and the agile young lady took advantage of the opportunity. She jumped clear of the broken vehicle, and landed squarely on her feet. Passersby who had seen her peril cheered the girl's spectacular jump.

But no sooner had she landed than Miss Omohundro turned and ran at full speed toward her father, who had started after the runaway immediately after having lost the reins. He presented a ghastly sight. His face and clothes were bespattered in blood and his coat and trousers had been almost torn from his body, while he was being dragged along the street in front of the Berry home. His watch had been torn out of his pocket and thrown over the fence round Mr. Berry's yard.

As soon as he learned that his daughter was safe, Mr. Omohundro smiled, and said that it was all right, that he was trying only to save her. A vehicle was loaned him by a passerby, and he was driven to the residence of Dr. C. A. Blanton, No. 300 West Grace Street, where the physician dressed his wounds. A bad scalp wound had to be sewed up, and there were many other bruises and cuts which had to be dressed. Mr. Omohundro was then taken to his home in a hack.

MRS. ATCHISON TO SECURE DIVORCE

Wife of Man Who Forged Lunch Checks Wants to Be Free.

CLOSED DISORDERLY HOUSE

Politics Are Hot in the County, and the Candidates Are Very Busy.

In the Circuit Court of Henrico yesterday R. Gordon Atchison, against whom there were several indictments for forgery, pleaded guilty to the one charging him with forging lunch tickets at the restaurant of the Richmond Locomotive Works. Judge Scott sentenced Atchison to two years in the penitentiary, specifying that the hard labor required of him shall be performed on the roads. The other cases against Atchison were nolle prossed.

Divorce to Be Asked For. Mr. W. C. Greenstreet, the father of Mrs. Atchison, announced yesterday that his daughter will at once bring an action for divorce from her husband since his plea of guilty to the charge of forgery. Mrs. Atchison has been ill for several weeks, and is now a patient at the Retreat for the Sick. Under the law she will have no trouble in getting the divorce.

Decrees Entered. In the Circuit Court yesterday Judge Scott had entered a number of decrees in civil matters, none of which, however, were of public interest.

Bad Time for Forgers. "This has been a bad time for men charged with forgery," said Clerk Waddill, of the Henrico Circuit Court, yesterday. "The conviction and sentence of Atchison is the second instance of a man going to the pen for Henrico for forgery at this time."

Hough House Closed.

"Squire Angle spent considerable time yesterday hearing the complaint against George Menzen, the proprietor of a boarding-house on Chelsea Hill. The neighbors charged that Menzen and his fifteen or twenty guests were constantly disorderly; that they caroused all night and did many other things against the peace and dignity and comfort of the community. After giving the case patient hearing, 'Squire Angle ordered the house closed, and the neighbors with the fear of greater punishment, promised to shut up shop at once. Last night the house was dark.

Politicians Active.

"No," said one of the courthouse loungers, "there is nothing doing in politics here; that is, at the courthouse; but don't you imagine for a minute that the candidates and the politicians of Henrico are idle. It is too hot for them to come to town or for anybody else to come just now. They know where to do business, and the place for it now is out in the rural shades. There are there, you bet, and they are doing business. Plenties and melons cunez, county trunks, and other things are now on in the country, and there is where you will find the candidates if you want to see them."

Uniform Turned Up.

A horny-handed son of toll was plowing near Seven Pines one day this week, and his plow turned up the remnants of a Confederate soldier's uniform. The gray jacket was considerably tattered, but the brass buttons were whole, and they are being held as souvenirs. "Squire Barney Frischkorn has two of them.

School Examinations.

Examinations of teachers for the Henrico schools will be held at the courthouse July 29th, 30th and 31st. Mr. J. K. Russell will conduct the examinations, and it is understood that many would-be teachers will be on hand to stand the test.

STABBED WITH ICE HOOK.

Junius Vaughan Assailed in Argument Over Pair of Gloves.

Junius Vaughan (colored), of No. 510 St. James Street, was stabbed in the head yesterday morning with an ice hook by one of his fellow laborers. He received an ugly scalp wound, and his skull was fractured. The assailant was treated by Dr. Strole, of the city ambulance corps, who sewed up the wounds, and then took the negro to his home.

Minor Offenders.

Wesley Terrell (colored) and Joseph Toney (white) were arrested last night on the charge of lighting on the street. George Booker (colored) was arrested on the charge of striking his wife, Lucy Booker.

Had Stolen Iron.

John Johnson was arrested last night on the charge of having stolen a pair of iron rails from a railroad. The rails were found in his property. The iron is said to be the property of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

LAW IN WAY OF WEDDING PLANS

Washington Man Wanted to Get License in Richmond on Sunday.

The telephone in the clerk's office at the Hustings Court rang violently yesterday. Deputy Crutchfield, who was on duty, answered the call, and a young man in Washington, "Can't issue marriage licenses on Sunday," he shouted. "That is the law in this court. How old is the girl? What time will you have to her age? No, I tell you we can't issue licenses on Sunday. All right, get married that day, but nothing doing in the license line."

The young man was badly worried, evidently he wanted to kill a couple of matrimonial birds with one stone, and his business arrangements were such that his honeymoon had to start and end the same day, that being the Sabbath. When he put down the receiver, the Washington man to-day, although Mr. Crutchfield told him that he could be supplied up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. Unless he can "quit work this morning his wedding bells will not ring for quite a while.

FINE LAW POINTS IN GORDON CASE RESTRICTION OF WHISKEY TRAFFIC

Question at Present Hangs on Court's Definition of "Designation." Report of Subcommittee Will Suggest Number of Import-Ant Changes.

GOES OVER TO WEDNESDAY

Details Not Made Public.

First Protest Under Law, Which Has Been Source of General Satisfaction. Paper Has Been Drawn, But Members Decline to Discuss Its Contents.

After all evidence had been submitted consideration of the appeal of Mr. James R. Gordon to the Hustings Court from the Police Court, where he was fined $10 for not complying with the "Jim Crow" law on street cars, was halted yesterday until Judge Witt can instruct the jury as to the interpretation of certain phrases of the law. The jury, therefore, was dismissed until Wednesday.

The testimony was practically the same as that presented to Justice Crutchfield. Mr. J. E. Cannon and Mr. W. R. Meredith, of counsel for Mr. Gordon, raised the point as to what was meant by "designation." Commonwealth's Attorney Folkes held that though the company could provide rules showing what section of the car had to be occupied by the two races the proper designation had to be left in a measure to the discretion of the conductor, who had to judge according to the number of passengers aboard. The point, furthermore, was raised by counsel for Mr. Gordon that there were no signs on the seats to designate the sections, such as are printed and posted in railroad coaches where the segregation of the races is ordered by the state.

The question at present hangs upon the court's instruction as to "designation," and the legal authorities will be consulted before the jury assembles on Wednesday. Though the law has been in effect for some time, and there have been a number of convictions under it, this is the first protest raised, and there is widespread interest in the litigation. It is said that the law is a source of general satisfaction, and the race races have been acquired in the ruling.

STOLE EIGHT PIGEONS.

Case of John Chambers Is Indefinitely Continued. The case of John Chambers, a white boy fourteen years old, charged with stealing eight pigeons from W. A. Smith, was continued indefinitely in Police Court yesterday morning.

The boy admitted that he had stolen the pigeons, but said that he had not broken into the house, as the complaint claimed. Mr. Smith declared that his coop had been robbed before, and that on the night of the theft his house had been broken up.

The boy's father said he had punished his son for the misdeed.

Michael Joseph Sullivan (colored) was arrested last night, charged with being a suspicious character. Mark Armstrong, and William Couch, two white men, were arrested on the same charge. Marshall Ray and Daniel Fauntleroy were arrested on the charge of being vagrants.

Fought With Umbrella. Martha Dunn and Maria Pittough, two colored dames, had a quarrel last night, and Martha struck Maria with her umbrella, which was much injured. When the fight was over, Maria was arrested.
